President's Message

Hello! I hope you have had a wonderful week so far.

First and foremost, I would like to welcome our latest member – Starr Anderson! Starr hails from United States; those of you who attended September's Chapter Meeting would have met her and heard her interesting table topics on Christmas in the States. Those of you who have not met her, please do attend future meetings to welcome her to our club!

It has been 3 months since my team and I have been in office, and we are enjoying ourselves immensely organising more exciting chapter meetings for you! We are also on track with our goals and objectives.

As we progress as a club, improving our communication and leadership skills, we would also like to make a contribution to the community. The committee has decided to come together to build a house for the less fortunate in Batam, in association with the Habitat for Humanity International. We are aiming for sometime in March next year. We are inviting all of you to take part in this build. If you are unable to join us at the build itself, we hope you will join us in our efforts in raising funds. We will be having different fundraising events throughout the next few months. Tune in for more information!

Meanwhile, have a great week ahead, and I will see you at the upcoming meeting on Wed, 27 Oct 2004.

Sincerely, Violet Lim

TODAY IS YESTERDAY'S TOMORROW

by Jim Rohn

The problem with waiting until tomorrow is that when it finally arrives, it is called today. Today is yesterday's tomorrow. The question is what did we do with its opportunity? All too often we will waste tomorrow as we wasted yesterday, and as we are wasting today. All that could have been accomplished can easily elude us, despite our intentions, until we inevitably discover that the things that might have been have slipped from our embrace a single, unused day at a time.

Each of us must pause frequently to remind ourselves that the clock is ticking. The same clock that began to tick from the moment we drew our first breath will also someday cease.

Time is the great equalizer of all mankind. It has taken away the best and the worst of us without regard for either. Time offers opportunity but demands a sense of urgency.

When the game of life is finally over, there is no second chance to correct our errors. The clock that is ticking away the moments of our lives does not care about winners and losers. It does not care about who succeeds or who fails. It does not care about excuses, fairness or equality. The only essential issue is how we played the game.

To know even one life has breathed more easily because you have lived... is to have succeeded.

Regardless of a person's current age, there is a sense of urgency that should drive them into action now - this very moment. We should be constantly aware of the value of each and every moment of our lives - moments that seem so insignificant that their loss often goes unnoticed.

We still have all the time we need. We still have lots of chances - lots of opportunities - lots of years to show what we can do. For most of us, there will be a tomorrow, a next week, a next month, and a next year. But unless we develop a sense of urgency, those brief windows of time will be sadly wasted, as were the weeks and months and years before them.

There isn't an endless supply!

So as you think of your dreams and goals of your future tomorrow, begin today to take those very important first steps to making them all come to life.
